

HealthyCal.org

California needs to act now to prevent a severe dental crisis. "School based programs are very successful in addressing access issues," says Kattlove. Also, training other medical professionals in preventative oral care and introducing innovations such as teledentistry are alternate solutions offered.

Download the article here .